

Specialist employment lawyers working in house with you

What is it?

LEWIS SILKINHOUSE is a well established and popular service from Lewis Silkin, tailored to complement our existing client services or as a stand alone service. It is designed for the growing number of businesses with an existing in house legal resource to cover those times when you have a surge of work, a large people project or need cover for an existing team member's absence.

Our service is what it says, having your own LEWIS SILKINHOUSE specialist employment lawyer, working in house with you to become a part of your team. You can be sure of the quality of our employment lawyers, they will be Lewis Silkin employees and fully integrated into our leading employment law team.

A thoroughly flexible service

Whatever your need we can provide you with a highly trained employment lawyer at the level that matches your needs, from paralegal, junior/senior lawyer through to general counsel. Our specialists will arrive equipped with appropriate levels of legal experience and commercial sense gained from working with other organisations and industries in private practice and in house.

Our lawyers are highly motivated, flexible and can work in the way that suits you: full time or part time; on location or virtually; fixed or variable hours or any other way of fitting in with your work patterns and needs.

How much will it cost?

You can expect to have our expert lawyers at very reasonable rates. The particular terms will depend on the level of the specialist placed with you. We anticipate that there will be considerable savings over hiring a permanent lawyer.

Our team of lawyers

Our skilled, expert LEWIS SILKINHOUSE lawyers work solely on in house secondments. They benefit from the continued training and support of our leading employment law service.

Our lawyers have worked in house in a wide range of industry sectors including in global investment banking and financial services, oil and gas, global management consulting, technology, media, professional services, retail, online delivery, professional bodies and national broadcasting.

The work carried out by the team is equally diverse including advising on commercial and strategic issues across EMEA, practical hands on management of high value and commercially sensitive litigation and guiding a client through a complex restructuring exercise.

What our clients say

Lewissilkinhouse is "every bit as good as we'd have expected"
