

Re-Occupy Survey

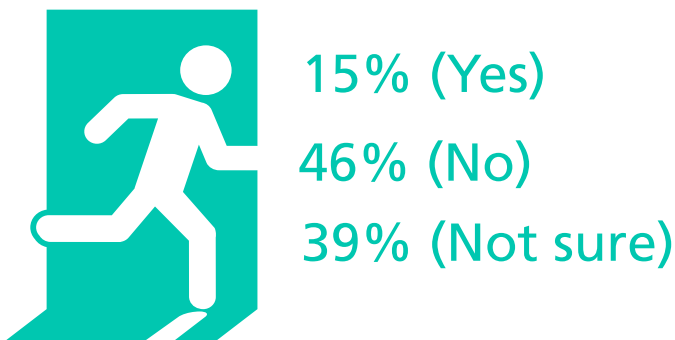

With thoughts turning to re-occupying premises, people are faced with dealing with the practicalities of how to implement social distancing measures and ensure the safety of employees, we conducted a survey for business decision makers to investigate their plans for re-occupying their offices, providing some clear trends which we hope will benefit you as we look to return to a 'new normal'.

If you are thinking of issuing a break notice, downsizing your premises or carrying out alterations or if you are unsure of who will be responsible for any Covid-19 related costs then please contact Rachel.francis-lang@lewissilkin.com

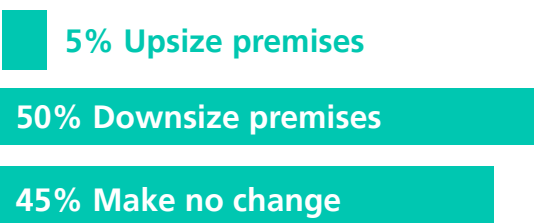

Are you considering re-negotiating the terms of your lease due to Covid-19?

Are you planning on exercising your break clause?

When you have the opportunity to end your existing occupational commitment what will you seek?

29% Have no immediate plans to re-occupy at the moment

24% Partial re-occupation will commence in the coming weeks

14% Planning to fully re-occupy in the coming weeks

